

WESTERN VOTERS FAIL TO WARM UP TO WILSON'S VIEWS

Said to Respond Indifferently to President's Statement on League of Nations.

MANY LEAN ON HOOVER.

Support Given Harding by Him and Taft Proves Effective on Pacific Coast.

By David Laurence.
(Special Correspondent of The Evening World.)

SEATTLE, Wash., June 19.—(Copyright, 1920).—Three thousand miles away from the political maelstroms of the East, the newspapers published in full the special interview given by President Wilson to the New York World, the outcome of which was the nomination of Senator Harding by former President Taft, the unequivocal support given the Republican nominee and platform by Herbert Hoover, and at the same time despatches describing the ominous silence of Hiram Johnson and the mysterious refusal of William G. McAdoo to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination.
All this came on Western folks like a torrent out of the sky, so here, where they think without rancor and vote without boss rule, a cross section of opinion is especially significant.

President Wilson's interview created hardly a ripple. The President is so generally considered out of the political game that his vehement expressions about the Republican National Convention passed without much comment.

Far from considering the Republican convention to have been "scientifically Prussian," as Mr. Wilson describes it, the people here rather get the impression that the Republican convention was unscientifically American and simply a typical example of what happens when 286 delegates are confined to a single room with sweltering temperatures and a confusing primary system.

MANY EXPECT DEMOCRATS TO WALLOW AROUND.
They wouldn't be a bit surprised if the Democratic convention wallows around in an equally unscientific mess meeting. But the President calls to register effectively hereabouts when he talks about the League of Nations for the simple reason that the people are not blindly following his leadership any more, but take their cues from men like Hoover and Taft. If these two men say the Republican platform means America's entrance into the League of Nations issue, that's enough for the majority of the Republican voters and for a good many independents too.

The League of Nations as an issue has possibilities only when it can be removed from the realm of complex philosophy to the formulas of simple every-day understanding. So long as it looked as if Taft, Hoover and other Republicans would stick by the Wilson gun in the League of Nations fight there was a chance out here for the Democratic viewpoint. But the accession of Taft and Hoover by Harding has had a progressively important effect.

Another thing they know something in Seattle about "political prisoners" and persons punished for expressing opinions and when Mr.
Wilson says he doesn't know of a single case in which anybody was punished for expressing an opinion, the radicals here ask what Eugene Debs was punished for if not the expression of an opinion in his famous speech to the jury. They also ask what Victor Berger was convicted for HINT THAT HE DODGES THE RESPONSIBILITY.

On the other hand, people who think the kind of opinions expressed by Debs and Berger should be punished don't see why the President hesitates to take full responsibility for the action of the Department of Justice in these cases. Mr. Wilson infringes himself, therefore, with neither radicals nor conservatives.

Incidentally the Democratic Convention in Kings County has just contributed an unconscious bit of humor to the situation by voting to ask the National Convention at San Francisco to include a plank in the platform advocating the release of political prisoners. If the President's expression in The New York World was a subtle effort to catch the radicals, it failed of effect in this hot bed of radicalism.

The creation of a third party at Chicago next month will, however, be carefully watched. The political power in this State is being sought by the

HARDING CONFERS WITH HAYS

Also Has a Talk With Harry Daugherty, His Campaign Manager.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Senator Harding had a long conference at his home last night with Chairman Will H.
Hays of the Republican National Committee and Harry M. Daugherty, his campaign manager.

James Sloan Jr., for fourteen years Secret Service agent at the White House, took up his duties today as personal attendant to the Republican nominee.

HOW THEY TALK ON COAST OF
THE McADOO CANDIDACY.

People are inclined to take McAdoo at his word in declining to be a candidate, but newspaper men are a bit skeptical. They want to know if he thinks the former Secretary of the Treasury really doesn't want the nomination unless he can get it by spontaneous offer from the convention, but that he will accept it gladly if it comes that way. Realizing the handicap which the father-in-law argument may make, it is noted that on practically the same day that President Wilson says publicly that he has not lifted a finger to promote anyone's candidacy, the son-in-law says publicly that he will not permit his name to be considered.

If the nomination comes to McAdoo, his friends here believe he will demonstrate that neither he nor his distinguished relative in the White House dictated the selection at San Francisco.

F. A. GIMBEL HELD AS PROFITEER IN MEN'S CLOTHING

Paquin of No. 128 Broadway, to represent them.

Louis Gimbel, one of the Vice-Presidents of Gimbel's, said:

"This certainly came as a surprise.
While I do not know what the specific charges are, I do know, however, that we would not permit or allow any one connected in any way with this store to violate any of the rules or regulations of the United States Government. We are selling our goods at a very close margin and I believe that a very serious error has been made."

F. A. Browne, Advertising Manager, said:

"While I do not know what the specific charges against these men are, I can say that it is not the intention and has not been the intention of Gimbel Brothers to over-charge for any article in the store.
However, in a large establishment as this, it is very possible and probable that a few isolated articles of merchandise, perhaps a hundred, may have been marked at a price which would not be a greater profit than that allowed by the Government. This may be the reason that our buyers have been arrested."

"I do not know how the Lever Act would affect separate pieces of merchandise marked up through error. I believe that this is probably the reason that these men have been arrested, but it certainly was not done fully if it was done, because it is not the policy of this firm to violate any of the Government regulations. We have always sold our goods within the margin of profit allowed by the Government."

FORGED $300 CHECK TO WED.

Bride-to-be Tries to Raise $1,500 Bait for Ceremony to Night.

While his weeping bride-to-be stood beside him in Starnum Court, where he was arraigned on a charge of forgery, Sol Sklar, No. 1727 Madison Avenue, whose wedding was set for to-night, told Magistrate Sweetser he had forged a check to get money to start housekeeping, and promised to make restitution.
Sklar, who is twenty years old and a chauffeur, was arrested by Detectives Hudolph Unger and Joseph Ryan on the charge he forged the name of S. Raths-child, a furniture dealer, No. 2815 Third Avenue, to a $300 check he presented to Ladlow Price, No. 1727 Madison Avenue.
Magistrate Sweetser held him in $1,500 for the Grand Jury. His fiancée hurriedly left to try to raise bail in time for the wedding.

WIDOW'S HEROIC ACT MAY SAVE GIRL WHO SHOT HERSELF

Gives Pint of Blood When 16-Year-Old Tries Suicide
Failing Graduation.

Mrs. Sarah Frey, twenty-four years old, a war widow, contributed a pint of blood that it was believed to-day may save the life of her sixteen-year-old sister, Pearl Kluger, who shot herself in the abdomen because she had failed to pass her final examinations after making all plans for graduation.

Pearl lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Kluger, at No. 1145 East 64th Street, Brooklyn. She was taken to the Kings County Hospital, where the transfusion to which Mrs. Frey submitted took place. While Pearl's condition is critical, it is not considered hopeless.

The parents asserted their daughter attempted suicide, although the police blotter at the Parkville Station records the shooting as "accidental." None of the family was at home when the shot was fired, but neighbors hearing it, went into the apartment and found Miss Kluger unconscious in her bedroom.

This is the story the parents told:
When Pearl was very small her little brother struck her on the head with a hammer. As a result she was never as bright as the other Kluger children.

Finally, after struggling in her classes at Public School No. 164, at 14th Avenue and 43d Street, more years than the course requires for normal children, she reached the last week of her graduating year. She was looking forward with pride to June 23, commencement day, and she had worked on her graduation frock a long time. The last stitch was completed last week.

Putting on her new dress Wednesday afternoon, she went to a photographer and had her picture made.

Mr. Kluger received a letter from Prof. De Forest A. Preston, Principal of Public School No. 164, yesterday, notifying him that Pearl had failed to pass her final examinations, and would not be graduated with her class. The parents tried to keep the letter from their daughter, but she found it yesterday afternoon and read it.

The revolver belonged to the girl's brother, Philip, who had a permit for it. He kept it in his dresser drawer under lock and key. He told the police he believed his sister had obtained a duplicate key.

RANSOM BILLS CHECKED UP.

Police Have Numbers on Money for Coughlin Baby.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 19.—A complete list of the numbers on the bills in the $12,000 packet of money which George H. Coughlin paid in the hope of getting back his kidnapped thirteen-month-old baby, Blackie, is in the hands of the Philadelphia police.
Orders have been issued to arrest any person attempting to spend money bearing these numbers. Before nightfall police of every city, town and hamlet around Norristown will also have been given the numbers on the ransom notes.

MRS. HARE'S MAID FIRST TO DISCOVER TRACE OF ROBBERY

Found Empty Jewel Case On Floor and Another With String of Pearls.

While mystery still clouds the $100,000 jewelry theft at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Hare, No.
109 East 64th Street, on June 2, it was learned to-day that Mrs. Hare's personal maid, Mary Egan, found traces of the thieves in Mrs. Hare's bedroom soon after the robbery, but made no report of it until Mrs. Hare returned home from visiting friends at 5:30 that afternoon.

Mrs. Hare left the house about 1 P. M. and half an hour later the maid went to her bedroom on the second floor to straighten it. She had been at work a few moments when she noticed a jewel box lying under the bureau. It was empty.
Thinking that Mrs. Hare had taken some jewels out and accidentally dropped the box, the maid restored it to its place and went on with her work. A moment later she discovered another jewel box under a chair near the centre of the room.

This box was empty save for a string of pearls. Although her suspicions were aroused the maid said nothing at the time, finished her work in the room and went downstairs. She noticed that the front door opening into the street was ajar, which still further excited her suspicions, but she kept them to herself until Mrs. Hare returned, when the robbery was discovered and reported to the police.

It was learned to-day that part of the missing jewels have been recovered, but Capt. John Duane, in charge of the Fifth Inspection District, who is working on the case, refused to say where, save that it was not in a pawnshop and that no arrest could be made. Mr. Hare refused to talk of the robbery.

Mr. Hare is the law partner of former Justice Clarence J. Shoar and has offices at No. 22 William Street.

HENRY HELD IN TOMBS.

Court Orders That Papers on Appeal Be Filed by June 28.

W. Bourke Cockran, argued for two hours before Supreme Court Justice Donnelly yesterday in support of his application for a certificate of reasonable doubt for former Police Inspector Dominick Henry, sentenced by Justice Weeks to serve from two to five years in Sing Sing for perjury.

Special Deputy Attorney William Rand opposed him.

Justice Donnelly, after ordering all papers submitted to him by June 28, overruled the decision and ruled that Henry be kept in the Tombs.

THREE SMALL BOYS CRACKED BIG SAFE, POLICE CHARGE

Oldest Only Twelve, They Are Said to Have Confessed —Arraigned To-Day.

Three small boys, the oldest only twelve, have confessed, the police say, to breaking open a safe in the office of Henry Henline & Co., stonecutters, at No. 409 East 104th Street, on June 12, and burglarizing the grocery store of Frank Prosky at No. 419 the same night.

The boys arrested last night by detectives of the East 104th Street Station are Tony Guardiani, twelve, of No. 349 East 104th Street; William Ingenuito, nine, of No. 2016 First Avenue, and John Maida, seven, of No.
2021 First Avenue.

According to the police the three boys confessed to forcing open a window in the office of the stone cutting firm and with sledge hammers and chisels cutting the hinges and lock from a five-foot safe. There was no money in the safe and they contented themselves with scattering the contents about the floor and smashing a number of framed blue prints and sketches. The telephone rang several times while they were at work and the police say they cut the wire to stop it ringing.

One of the boys, it is alleged, dropped his school report card and the detectives traced him by it. The detectives say he admitted his part in the burglary and implicated the other two.

After leaving the fifth safe, the police say, the boys went to Prosky's grocery, a one-story structure, where they opened the skylight and let themselves down onto a counter.
Then, according to their alleged confession, they built a staircase of sugar sacks up to the skylight and carried about $75 worth of merchandise to the roof, but were frightened away by the appearance of a woman at the window of an adjoining house.
The boys were taken to the Children's Society and will be arraigned to-day in Children's Court.

BOY HERO SAVES FRIEND.

Twelve-year-old Thomas Ryder is the hero of Haverstraw, N. Y., to-day, and the townspeople are going to ask for the Carnegie Medal for lifesaving. Thomas, who is six years old, prevented Michael Kumanchak, also twelve, of Haverstraw, from drowning yesterday when Michael was seized with cramp while swimming in the Hudson River. As Ryder was swimming about fifty yards from shore, he heard Kumanchak call for help and then saw him sink. He went to his companion, who is a much larger boy, and caught him by the hair.
He only partly succeeded, in keeping him afloat above water, but he called for help. His uncle, William Ryder, heard and jumped into the water without removing his clothes. With his nephew he brought Michael, who was unconscious, to land.

BACK TO PARENTS 5 MINUTES AFTER SHE WAS WEDDED

Father's Application for Daughter's Guardianship Reveals Short-Lived Romance.

After five minutes of married life, Miss Annette Tannenbaum changed her mind and hurried home to her father, Philip P. Tannenbaum of No.
380 West 42d Street, who disclosed the story of this short-lived romance when he applied to Supreme Court Justice Tierney yesterday for an order appointing him guardian-at-law of his daughter.

Tannenbaum told Justice Tierney that his daughter married Abraham Winkie May 25 last at 12:10 P. M., and that by 12:15 P. M. she was speeding home to her parents, filled with regret. Mr. Tannenbaum said that his daughter had been deceived into a joke marriage, and intimated that he would proceed for its annulment.

Miss Tannenbaum, who is not twenty years old, has twice been voted the winner in beauty contests. She met Winkie, a young salesman, while spending the summer at a Long Island resort some years ago, according to her father, and had entirely forgotten him until fifteen minutes before her marriage, when they again met and decided to wed.

Harry Sachs Hochheimer of No. 320 West 42d Street is attorney for Mr.
Tannenbaum.

"What do you mean, deny it?" demanded Mr. Tannenbaum, who appeared at the door. "It is all true.
The lawyer will speak for me." Hochheimer said: "Letters of guardianship have been given. Action will be started without delay. These young people met at 1 o'clock in the morning and said, 'Let's get married.' They went through a marriage ceremony, and when the young woman found it was a legal ceremony she went to her mother. The marriage never has been consummated. It was procured by fraud and misrepresentation."

GRAND UNION HOTEL SITE PRICE RAISED

City Now Negotiating With Several Prospective Purchasers, Whose Identity Are Not Revealed.

The city is negotiating with several prospective purchasers of the old Grand Union Hotel site, Park Avenue and 42d Street. It is hoped to sell the property at private sale in a few days.
The identity of the prospective buyers have not been revealed, but it is hinted they are hotel men.
Transit Construction Commissioner Delaney, who has charge of the sale of the property, has raised the price from $2,500,000 to $2,800,000. "This has been done despite the fact that the city recently attempted to auction the property at a set price of $2,500,000 and received no bids. It is believed that offera-made since the auction by rival hotel men influenced Commissioner Delaney to raise the price.

Aldermanic President La Guardia believes the Victory Hall Association should be permitted to buy the site for $2,500,000. But if the association takes advantage of the law giving it the right to acquire the property by condemnation, La Guardia says he will go into court and attack the act on the ground of unconstitutionality.

Beautiful Actress Attributes Her Wonderful Success to Her Famous Complexion Tells How You May Also Have One

When Miss Dorothy Dalton, the beautiful actress who was selected for the leading role in that mammoth New York production, "Aphrodite," was questioned as to the secret of her phenomenal success, she unhesitatingly said, "My complexion." When asked further details she explained: "Every one of my first engagements was made possible through the coloring of my skin, and I have no doubt but that my first appearance was made possible through the beauty of my skin. I had acquired for a beautiful complexion. Managers are like ordinary mortals, they admire a beautiful skin as much as any one, and in selecting their casts they naturally prefer those whose complexions are attractive. I think the best asset any girl or woman can have is a beautiful skin and complexion. It is easy to have this if one will spend only a little time in taking care of the skin. A girl may have irregular features, but she possesses a beautiful complexion she will attract attention anywhere. I am always glad to tell any girl or woman just how she may possess a skin like mine.
Here is the recipe: Night and morning cleanse the skin first with warm water, then apply a good cold cream (I use cold cream I have found to be the best). After moisture is in the skin take off the superfluous cream with a soft cloth. Then before going out during the day or evening I apply Der-will, a simple toilet preparation which can be purchased at the toilet counter of any up-to-date drug or department store.

First Application Astonishes

"The first application of this wonderful Derwill will astonish you.
It instantly makes a rosy-white complexion—every one will talk about it.
I find it excellent for my skin in all kinds of ways. The first time I used it I felt it to all other toilet preparations and an ever so long time ago I had short sleeves on in vogue and my skin was so beautiful that my friends were all asking me for the secret. I had acquired for a beautiful
